Dear State Director of Geospatial Services F. David Radford,

Dear Bureau of Land Management ("BLM"),

I STRONGLY support the proposed mineral withdrawal to protect the watershed of the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness ("Boundary Waters"). The threats posed by sulfide-ore copper mining are unjustifiable in the watershed of such a sensitive and important area.

The Boundary Waters is America's most popular and water-rich Wilderness Area. Its 1.1 million acres contain more than 1,000 pristine lakes and 1,200 miles of river and stream. Priceless and irreplaceable, the Boundary Waters must not be put at risk of perpetual pollution from the most toxic industry in America.

During environmental review of the proposed withdrawal, please be sure to thoroughly address the following:

· Cleanest water quality in North America - how many bodies of water in the US can you say the same for? The lakes, rivers, and streams of the Boundary Waters watershed are among the CLEANEST waters in North America and are especially sensitive to acids and heavy-metals found in copper mine pollution;

·America's most visited & accessible wilderness destination - The Boundary Waters is the most popular Wilderness Area in the U.S., and the largest east of the Rockies and north of the Everglades. Visitors travel through it by boat or canoe, and can choose routes to avoid having to carry their gear, making the Boundary Waters more accessible to families, children, and people with physical limitations;

· Economics - The Boundary Waters supports a strong, sustainable, growing outdoor recreation industry in Minnesota as a principal driver of the $850 million, 17,000-job recreation economy in the northeast of Minnesota and helps support hundreds of manufacturing jobs and keep, attract talent to Minnesota.

I urge the BLM to withdraw the 225,378 acres of national forest lands to protect the Boundary Waters from the threat of endless sulfide-ore copper mining pollution. Let’s not have ANY MORE lands and waters still in pristine condition to be ruined and polluted for our current generation and the future. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
Bina Lee
