Here is Park Service acres acquired, by Monument and State, since the origin of LWCF in 1965.

They have cost data in a different system for some reason, and say it would take them several days if not longer to extract amounts per monument, but the acres acquired was readily available.

I also checked FWS, as they annually update and post a document showing every acre acquired, and cost if purchased, for every refuge since it was established. All of the land at the Hanford Reach monument was acquired by DOE or reserved from the public domain DOE is not authorized to use LWCF, so nothing for this request there.
