
This map was constructed using a USGS topographic map background image. The road layer used for analysis was inventoried by Redwood National and State Parks within the last decade. A few short road segments from the USGS map, which are visible in the background layer of this map, are no longer present according the inventories used for this planning document.