The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is accepting nominations for the 2003 President's Quality Award Program. These awards will recognize those organizations and projects that stand out in implementing the objectives of the President's Management Agenda (PMA). An organization may apply for consideration under any, or all, of the five categories listed below, and will be recognized for their performance and results:

- Strategic Management of Human Capital
- Competitive Sourcing
- Improved Financial Performance
- Expanded Electronic Government
- Budget and Performance Integration

The specific award criteria and application instructions are available electronically at www.opm.gov/pqa.

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) was the only DOI agency to be a finalist for one of the President's Quality Award in 2002. BLM was one of seven finalists selected out of 100 government agencies. Let's do it again this year.

An original and one copy of the nomination package should be submitted by August 20, 2003, to the Assistant Director, Human Resources Management, 1849 C Street, N.W., Mail Stop 3023, Washington, DC 20240, Attention: Louise Harris, Executive Initiatives Group (WO-710). Questions concerning the award may be directed to Ms. Harris at (202) 501-6723.
