Dear State Director of Geospatial Services F. David Radford,

Dear Bureau of Land Management ("BLM"),

I know you get a lot of these, all with the same message, but you can't keep letting companies destroy our planet. You can't keep letting them build and pollute the air for profits. I don't know who put it into people's heads that money matters more than our environment but whoever that was severely needed therapy for their trauma with money issues. We are lucky to be alive on a planet that sustains life when none of the other planets do and we are treating it like its disposable and its not.

The Boundary Waters is America's most popular and water-rich Wilderness Area. Its 1.1 million acres contain more than 1,000 pristine lakes and 1,200 miles of river and stream. That's priceless and irreplaceable. We cannot put the Boundary Waters at risk of perpetual pollution from the most toxic industry in America. They can't keep being allowed to destroy the planet just because they have money. Someone needs to be brave enough to stand up to them. I sincerely hope those brave people are you.

I urge the BLM to withdraw the 225,378 acres of national forest lands to protect the Boundary Waters from the threat of endless sulfide-ore copper mining pollution. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
Dana Alyss
