Dear State Director of Geospatial Services F. David Radford,

Dear Bureau of Land Management ("BLM"),

Can you stop giving up beautiful places for ugly economic ventures such as mining? This is ridiculous and you should absolutely not allow any pollution to come near Boundary Waters. Why would you want to destroy this incredible place? If you do, no coming generations will ever be able to experience its beauty in person.

This beyond the money that could be made from this. If you're that desperate for money, contact congress and see if you can get a slice of our asininely large military budget. Nature and preserving the planet is so much more important than potential profits. There's already enough land ruined by mining and oil. Don't let Boundary Waters become one of them.

I urge the BLM to withdraw the 225,378 acres of national forest lands to protect the Boundary Waters from the threat of endless sulfide-ore copper mining pollution. Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,
Isabella Bialas
