He will work on it while I am on leave for (b) (6) [redacted] and then he and I will take turns doing this next week, so I can work on more substantive aspects of the review also. He will use my user ID and password; am letting you know so you are not surprised there is activity in my name while I am out Friday. It didn't seem to me we had time to set up a new person with an ID and authority to group code. If this is incorrect let me know.
