Subject: Corporate Expectations

Attached is the list of Corporate Expectations for the National Applied Resource Sciences Center (NARSC). The NARSC Leadership Team reviewed and adopted the expectations. I invite each of you to read and adopt them as well.

A team of employees from NARSC developed the Corporate Expectations. Their goal was to compile a list of the expectations to improve the "Health of the Organization" with respect to the efforts of all employees of NARSC. The Corporate Expectations provide a vision of how NARSC employees will work within BLM's mission and represent Corporate BLM wherever we go.

Any Corporate Expectation list addresses issues of conduct and behavior. How you choose to apply each expectation is a highly personal decision. The NARSC Leadership Team intends this list to be a guide. Some of the expectations are required by law. Others made good business sense. Others are just common sense. Your adoption of the entire list is voluntary. Join together with other NARSC employees and put into practice the expectations.
