Subject: Public Service Excellence Awards 2000 DD: 01/07/2000

Since 1985 the National Public Service Excellence Awards have paid tribute to programs that embody the highest standards of government. Excellence Award winners represent public service at its best.

One category allows nominations to be made to recognize working units of two or more employees within a Federal agency for either a one-time achievement or sustained achievement over the past several years. By recognizing groups rather than individuals, the awards demonstrate the importance of teamwork in public service.

All nominations must be received by the Public Employees Roundtable in Washington, D.C. by January 7, 2000

If you are interested in submitting a nomination, and would like to receive the application form and further information, please call Lenna Gerwing at the National Human Resources Management Center (NHRMC) at (303) 236-6667
