Volunteers Aid Prineville BLM in Cline Buttes

Redmond, Ore. – Volunteers from organizations around Central Oregon are gathering to help put the finishing touches on the Maston Trail area and begin the trail building process in the Historic Tumalo Canal Trail area this Saturday, April 13. Both Trail Use Areas are part of the Cline Buttes Recreation Area located west of Redmond near Eagle Crest.

Members of the Cline Buttes Recreation Association, the Archaeological Society of Central Oregon, Oregon Equestrian Trails, Central Oregon Trail Alliance, Redmond Area Parks and Recreation Department, the City of Redmond, Eagle Crest, and the Eagle Crest Homeowners Association have been invited to participate in this event. Youth from the Heart of Oregon will also be working on the projects.

Members of the public are welcome to join the volunteer day. Work will run from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. with volunteers gathering at the Maston Trailhead off of Newcomb Road. People planning to volunteer should bring gloves, lunch and water, and plan to sign a volunteer agreement.

Can't make the volunteer day? Everyone is invited to come out to Cline Buttes and hike the trails to help get them established. "Tumalo and Maston are great areas to hike, especially in the spring," said Greg Currie, Landscape Architect with the BLM. "The more foot traffic we get, the more fixed these trails will be. We would just encourage visitors to stay on the newly created trails and follow the markings."

For more information about this volunteer event, please call the Prineville BLM Office at (541) 416-6700. More information about the Cline Butte Recreation Area can be found on the Prineville BLM webpage at <http://www.blm.gov/or/districts/prineville/recreation/cline/index.php>

About the BLM: The BLM manages more than 245 million acres of public land – the most of any Federal agency. This land, known as the National System of Public Lands, is primarily located in 12 Western states, including Alaska. The BLM also administers 700 million acres of sub-surface mineral estate throughout the nation. In Fiscal Year (FY) 2011, recreational and other activities on BLM-managed land contributed more than $130 billion to the U.S. economy and supported more than 600,000 American jobs. The Bureau is also one of a handful of agencies that collects more revenue than it spends. In FY 2012, nearly $5.7 billion will be generated on lands managed by the BLM, which operates on a $1.1 billion budget. The BLM's multiple-use mission is to sustain the health and productivity of the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations. The Bureau accomplishes this by managing such activities as outdoor recreation, livestock grazing, mineral development, and energy production, and by conserving natural, historical, cultural, and other resources on public lands.
