Re: BLM Western Oregon Plan Revision

To whom it may concern:

We have already lost 85-95% of our old-growth forests. Tree farms are not sanctuaries for wildness. Old-growth-forests are critical for the physical survival of our culture and the emotional survival of many of the ~~people~~ citizens of Oregon. For myself, and on behalf of my 3-year-old son, I ask you to protect what remains of our old-growth forests.

Sincerely

John Anne
