Re: BLM Western Oregon Plan Revisions

I have read over this proposal and vehemently oppose it.

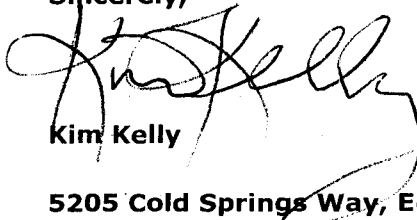

It is shortsighted and backward. To say it damages the remaining rivers, watersheds and overall environment is like stating the Pope is Catholic.

Once our leaders were guardians of the public lands. Now it seems they are guardians of big corporate profits, including timber.

It is being put forward that the rural communities need the proceeds from the sale of old growth forests. That is so weak and transparent as not to be believed. What happens when the money runs out AGAIN ten years from now as it surely will? We will have no recourse and NO forests, just tree farms. We the people need to find a sustainable way to fund rural needs, not just put a finger in the dyke.

I am a proud owner of my public lands and will protest and protest and protest until these old growth areas are left alone for all of us to enjoy to eternity.

Sincerely,

Kim Kelly
