South Yuba River Recreation Area and National Trail

South Yuba River Recreation Area and National Trail

Nestled in the heart of California's historic Gold Country, and straddling the scenic South Yuba River, this landscape offers a rich natural history and endless recreation. Steep, pine-covered canyons transition to gentle slopes and wildflower meadows. Pitch a tent in a tree shaded campground, hike one of the many trails, explore on horseback, fish for rainbow trout, pan for gold, or cool off in a secluded swimming hole.

The South Yuba River Recreation Area is located approximately 10 miles northeast of Nevada City, California. Access to the area is off Highway 49 via North Bloomfield Road. Pickups with campers, travel trailers and motorhomes should use Highway 49 and turn right at the junction of Tyler Foote Road. At the intersection of Grizzly Hill Road turn right and proceed to North Bloomfield Road.

The South Yuba River Recreation Area is administered by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), U.S. Forest Service (USFS) and California Department of Parks and Recreation (State Parks/DPR).

Facility Descriptions

To better enjoy your visit, please remember the following:

➔ You will cross private land along some trails. Please respect the rights of private landowners.

➔ The BLM allows suction dredging for gold in designated areas under a permit system. State Parks allows "pans and hands" only. Check with the responsible agency for more specific information.

➔ The area between a ¼ mile downstream and a ½ mile upstream from Edwards Crossing is a high-density recreation area - Day Use Only. No overnight camping. No suction dredging.

➔ At Edwards Crossing - No motorized equipment such as dredges may be operated off of North Bloomfield Road including motorized vehicles.

➔ Do not leave valuable items inside un-attended vehicles.

➔ There is a 14 day camping limit on BLM public lands.

➔ Pack it in - Pack it out and... Pack a little extra if you can. Help us keep this area clean.
