Small wildland fire in Browns Canyon WSA

Cañon City, Colo. – Lightning from yesterday's thunderstorm activity is the cause of a small wildland fire in the Browns Canyon Wilderness Study Area (WSA) on BLM land located east of US Highway 285 between Salida and Buena Vista. The fire is less than a tenth of an acre but is highly visible from the highway.

The wildfire is burning in rocky terrain with light fuels consisting of piñon and juniper and grasses. The wildfire poses no threat to human safety, private property or valuable resources and is being monitored closely at this time.
