

The Boise area is a great place to work, live and raise a family. Whether it's the vibrant cultural and recreational opportunities, the friendly people or the mild climate, Boise and the surrounding communities afford a quality of life second to none.

Good jobs, affordable housing and a safe, clean and vibrant downtown all add up to a great place to live. Boise is the largest metropolitan area in Idaho, and also the most remote metropolitan area in the United States, fostering a "unique sense of community."

Recreation: The Boise Valley is situated at the edge of the Snake River Plain, where rolling hills meet the beautiful Boise Mountains. Boise is minutes from rivers, lakes, and recreational opportunities galore and open 24/7 for any type of outdoor adventure that you can imagine. Boise is 35 minutes from Bogus Basin Ski Resort, and is just over an hour from Tamarack Ski resort. Brundage ski resort in McCall is two hours away, as well as the famous Sun Valley ski resort. Boise also boasts a significant metropolitan area with a vibrant downtown district, cultural opportunities, art museums, shopping and special events.

Idaho BLM is divided into four different districts. Each district is divided into field offices, as shown above. Boise district is comprised of the Four Rivers, Owyhee and Bruneau field offices.

No other agency manages a greater variety of resources than the Bureau of Land Management - from white sand desert to alpine forests. These are public lands belonging to all Americans; places everyone can visit and enjoy. Our place is...YOUR PLACE.

WHAT DOES THIS AREA HAVE TO OFFER?

Boise

Estimated Population: 205,339 (Boise) 615,528 (Treasure Valley)

Schools: Boise Independent School District, with 32 elementary schools, nine junior high schools, four high schools, one technical school and a night school, serves over 25,000 students.

Home to Boise State University, a four year metropolitan research university offering more than 190 fields of interest. Boise State is the largest university in Idaho, with an all-time state enrollment record of 19,667 students.

Nearest Airport: Boise Airport

Economy: Boise's metropolitan area boasts an ever-increasing job market and a steady economy. Several major companies are headquartered in Boise. Several other cities and communities within the Treasure Valley offer more job opportunities, affordable housing and clean living.

The Weather: Because of Boise's relatively low elevation, the city rarely sees cumulative snowfall in the winter. Summer temperatures range from the mid 80s to high 90s, and Boise's brilliant fall and spring seasons are mild and colorful.
