Work Taking Place in BLM Recreation Sites

Roseburg, Ore. – Roseburg district Bureau of Land Management (BLM) recreation sites Swiftwater day-use area and Swiftwater Trailhead will be closed or partially closed for facility upgrades from June 14-June 18, 2010. Full or partial closure will depend on the type of work being done on the particular day. The closed portions of the sites will be signed closed or blocked off from public use. Foot traffic and parking will be allowed outside of the closed areas. The sites are expected to reopen June 19, 2010.

Please contact the BLM office in Roseburg for information at (541) 440-4930. Additional information about the BLM's Roseburg District is available online at:

About the BLM: The BLM manages more land – 253 million surface acres – than any other Federal agency. This land, known as the National System of Public Lands, is primarily located in 12 Western States, including Alaska. The Bureau, with a budget of about $1 billion, also administers 700 million acres of sub-surface mineral estate throughout the nation. The BLM's multiple-use mission is to sustain the health and productivity of the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations. The Bureau accomplishes this by managing such activities as outdoor recreation, livestock grazing, mineral development, and energy production, and by conserving natural, historical, cultural, and other resources on public lands.
