National Public Lands Day at Oregon Trail Center

BAKER CITY, Ore. – The annual National Public Lands Day will be observed at the National Historic Oregon Trail Interpretive Center on Saturday, September 27th with volunteer trail and vegetation projects, free admission for all visitors, and a special presentation by folk musician Hank Cramer.

National Public Lands Day is a nationwide effort to help care for parks, natural areas, historic sites, trails, watersheds, and other areas owned by the public. For 20 years the last Saturday of September has been designated as National Public Lands Days (NPLD) with an estimated 170,000 volunteers throughout the country participating last year. More information on events can be found at: www.publiclandsday.org

Restoration activities at the Trail Center begin at 9:00 am and include clean up and reseedling of the native plant garden, restoring social trails along the historic Oregon Trail Ruts, and maintenance of benches along the hiking trails. Individuals or groups may participate; all participants receive a T-shirt, a barbecue lunch offered by the Trail Tenders volunteer group, and a coupon for free admission at National Parks and federal recreation areas. The 4-mile hiking trail system at the NHOTIC is heavily used, with upwards of 10,000 visitors and locals annually using the trails or visiting the original wagon ruts on the Oregon Trail.

The Center will be open for all visitors from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm, Performances by folk musician Hank Cramer featuring music about western landscapes and western heritage are at 10:30, noon and 2:00.

The Trail Center is located five miles east of Baker City, Oregon on Highway 86. Take Exit 302 from I-84. The Center is currently open 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Admission for adults is $8.00; for seniors it's $4.50; children 15 and under are admitted for free. Federal passes are accepted. Call (541) 523-1843 for updates on programs and events. For more information about the Trail Center visit oregontrail.blm.gov.

The BLM manages more than 245 million acres of public land, the most of any Federal agency. This land, known as the National System of Public Lands, is primarily located in 12 Western states, including Alaska. The BLM also administers 700 million acres of sub-surface mineral estate throughout the nation. The BLM's mission is to manage and conserve the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations under our mandate of multiple-use and sustained yield. In fiscal Year, 2013, the BLM generated $4.7 billion in receipts from public lands.
