Comments:

As avid motor vehicle users, including ATV, high clearance, motorcycle, and snowmobile. We are always concerned when government agencies start their scoping processes! Our public lands should remain available to the public with access. Where there are existing roads and trails those existing roads and trails should remain intact and usable! We have enjoyed recreating on BLM lands covering a considerable area of the northwest and great basin. There is plenty to visit and enjoy on these backroads of America. Most motorized outdoor recreationists do not leave the existing roads and trails already established. We enjoy these public lands and want future generations of Americans to enjoy and access these same public lands that we have had the opportunity to! The vistas, animals and terrain are what push us to explore these vast lands, just as the first miners and explorers did, back before there was any federal bureaus of land management! We ask that our comments be heard and that our thoughts be instilled in the final land use management decisions that will effect future generations as well as current users of public lands!
