To Whom it May Concern,

May 30th, 2012

The comments form I took home from the May 29th Springfield, OR meeting, RE: Revisions to the existing RMPs for Western Oregon, did NOT have a back side with your contact info. Please have someone in your offices add this comment to the ones I left at the meeting last night.

Please incorporate the findings from the pilot programs (below) INTO your RMP. From what I have heard, they might be THE model we have been looking for, in that they put people to work, and ALSO bring money back to the counties! Information at the link below.

Thank you,

Robin Bloomgarden

Middle Applegate Watershed Pilot (Medford)

The Middle Applegate Watershed Pilot is a collaborative project between the Medford District, the Applegate Partnership, the Southern Oregon Small Diameter Collaborative, the Rogue River-Siskiyou National Forest and others. Informed by the results of the collaborative Applegate Fire Learning Network's landscape assessments and multiple values mapping, a project was identified and nominated by local collaborative groups to the Secretary of the Interior for consideration as a landscape level restoration pilot. The Secretary accepted the proposal to be a pilot for the landscape restoration of dry Douglas-fir forests based on the approaches developed

Jerry Franklin and Norm Johnson.
