I think this is a crucial time for trail development in klamath county... I believe that this could become a world class bike trail system if the different governmental organizations, land owners and volunteers got together. We have the chance to have a trail that completely encompasses the largest lake west of the mississippi... For a county who is floundering financially this could be the economic shot in the arm to pull this county out of this tail spin. The clay based soil will set up beautifully and will be very inexpensive to maintain. This trail can connect to the OC&E trail and create a trail system 200+ miles long. Most of the infrastructure is already in place it would just be a matter of connecting and redesignateing trails a closed to motorized use... Single track bike trails and hiking trails are one in the same we could make this trail system a tourist destination. With a yurt system the views would be outstanding. thanks for your thoughts and doing what you do...
