Western Oregon Plan Revisions

Dear Persons:

I have read many reports about the Western Oregon Plan Revision, and I would like to protest its implementation. The threat of exponentially increasing logging gives me great pause, for industry and current commerce certainly doesn't seem to demand it, and the last great forests of the Northwest may be permanently removed.

In addition, the practice of blanketing clearcut areas with herbicides threatens watersheds, the air, and forest dwellers.

Please be bold and oppose the administration's forward of what might well be considered draconian forest "thinning." We who live in the Northwest appreciate the landscape and deserve much more.

Thank you for your consideration.
