Barney Barnacle

Snug on the rock in my own little castle,
I close the doors when the tide falls—no hassle!

Tommy Turban Snail

Wet or dry, I move slowly.
My big black shell protects me.

Andy Anemone

Open, I look like a flower; closed, like a donut.
Don't be fooled by my stillness; I'm a predator on the hunt.

Ursula Urchin

Burrowed in the rock, I love to munch on algae.
I'll hug your finger if you gently touch me.

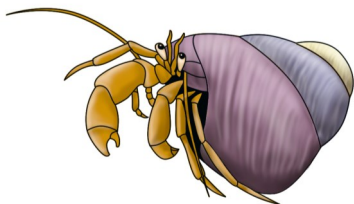

Tide Pools Middle Tide High Tide

Martha Mussel

Upon the rocks, I live in beds,
holding on with byssal threads.

Harold Hermit Crab

An empty snail shell makes a good home, protecting me as I roam.

Tide Pools Middle Tide High Tide

Sally Sea Star

My five legs and hundreds of tube feet help me look for other animals to eat.

Tide Pools Middle Tide High Tide

Stevie the Sculpin

I'm very good at blending in,
so watch closely if you want to see me swim.
