Roll Call

➤ Noted

Nick D.-Any changes to company or BLM policies about COVID.

Sam B.-The BLM has been moving along the same lines of returning to some sort of normalcy in phases. We have not gotten the roll out authority yet, so this week is status quo. We follow the directives that come down from the Headquarters, each state is doing things differently. We do not follow the governor's guidance we follow the BLM guidance.

Nick D.-Any changes from the other companies?

Brad B.-I do not see any reason that anything would hinder work being done. The thing for me is just getting the vendors scheduled in.

Tony K.-I agree unless things change for the worse.

Nick D.-Mark can you give us your weekly?

Mark M.-K100 cylinder 2 is at 301 degrees still under alarm and shutdown. Injecting 4.1M about 65 % we are producing ourselves. Pressure is at 1240 we are watching that closely. We are putting 1M into the Kinder Morgan line and flaring the rest.

Nick D.-The only thing that concerns me is the coolers. If that is something that you all need to chat about that might be something you want to see if there is an alternate solution for.

The only travel thing coming up is the July annual meeting.

Sam B.-We have had dialogue about that, there is concern out there about travel. We are looking at a teleconference for that meeting. We are just needing to make sure that it will support international calls and we are leaning toward a call versus a live meeting in July. We will send out more information on that when we get more figured out.

Nick D.-I have not seen anything as far as the security check. So, I will let you know when I hear something about that. I do not have anything else for today. Anyone else have comments?
