

U.S. Department of the Interior
Bureau of Land Management

U.S. Department of Agriculture
U.S. Forest Service

Nature Hunt

Sand to Snow National Monument

Matilija Poppy

Celebrate the 5th Anniversary of Sand to Snow National Monument

by getting outdoors and joining this special nature hunt event

February 12, 13 & 14, 2021
(Friday - Sunday) Noon-Noon

All designated trails in
Sand to Snow National Monument

Join us in observing nature throughout the National Monument's desert, foothills and mountains.

Together we can appreciate and enjoy the diversity of Public Lands.

Take part to record as many living things as you can see from any of the designated trails in Sand to Snow National Monument.

THIS IS A FREE EVENT

Register at www.desertmountains.org/sandtosnow

Be sure to follow local guidelines regarding group sizes and COVID 19 safety measures.

Using the app iNaturalist to record observations, this surveying technique is a fantastic way to discover the wealth of biodiversity in the Sand to Snow National Monument.

Questions? Email Tracy Albrecht, interpretive specialist, Bureau of Land Management at talbrech@blm.gov or call (760) 833-7127. People of all ages are invited to participate.

Friends of the Desert Mountains

NATIONAL
CONSERVATION
LANDS

California

Sand to Snow National Monument

