WELCOME TO EIGHT DOLLAR MOUNTAIN BOTANICAL WAYSIDE!

Walk among the carnivores—the carnivorous California pitcher plant (Darlingtonia californica), that is. The 8-mile Eight Dollar Mountain Interpretive Boardwalk provides an easy walk through towering pines to view one of southern Oregon’s most unique botanical features, Darlingtonia fens (wetlands). Educational panels along the boardwalk provide information about the California pitcher plant, its wet serpentine habitat, and the drier surrounding slopes. A moderate hike along the 1-mile Jeffrey Pine Loop Trail passes through serpentine habitats, follows an historic mining ditch, and offers views of the Illinois River. Visit the trails in late April through early June for wildflower viewing.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- ✓ OPEN YEAR ROUND. Day-use only. No fees. No drinking water.
- ✓ FACILITIES include restrooms at the boardwalk trailhead. Two parking spaces are located at boardwalk trailhead; one is handicapped parking only.
- ✓ TRAILS are open to hikers only. The boardwalk is wheelchair accessible. Rare wildflowers bloom in this area; leave flowers for others to enjoy.
- ✓ WATCH FOR ticks, poison oak, and rattlesnakes.

DIRECTIONS

Located 26 miles southwest of Grants Pass on Highway 199. About 3.5 miles south of Selma, turn west on Eight Dollar Mountain Road (FS 4201). Drive 0.8 mile to a large parking lot on the left along the road. The Jeffrey Pine Loop Trail begins at the parking lot. The trailhead for the Eight Dollar Mountain Botanical Wayside Boardwalk Trail is on the right up the steep, paved drive.
