

Moonscape Overlook

Henry Mountain Field Station
380 W 100 S, Hanksville, UT
84734

Perched atop the Skyline Rim at the edge of Factory Bench, this short trip offers beautiful views looking across the colorful and intricate features that make up the Lower Blue Hills area. These stunning landscape views make it a popular destination for photographers. There are no restrooms or facilities at the overlook, please plan ahead and be prepared.

When you embark on a self-directed experience you are accepting that your safety is your responsibility.

- Sandstone can be unstable, avoid playing around cliff edges.
- Many routes are not marked and require navigation skills. GPS and maps are recommended as cell coverage is scarce in the region.
- Most roads in this area are clay-based and can become impassable quickly after rain and snow, always check the weather forecast.
- Due to high heat exposure this area is best visited either in the Spring and Fall season, or early in the morning and late afternoon.
- Stay on designated routes and tread lightly. Practice responsible Leave No Trace principles. Pack it in, pack it out!

Getting There

From Hanksville to Factory Butte Road

Drive west on highway 24 for 10 miles, turn right onto BLM Rd #0091 (also signed as 6650 east) shortly after passing mile marker 106.

Head North on Factory Butte Road

The road is unpaved but generally well maintained. In a half mile there will be restrooms and an information kiosk. Keep to the right at this junction and continue for 3 miles.

Turn Right on BLM Rd #0913

The turnoff will be signed as BLM road 0913. A high clearance vehicle is recommended beyond this point.

Turn Left on Skyline View Road (BLM Rd #0913 cont.)

Continue north for 2 miles, take a right at the junction and the moonscape overlook is half a mile further at the end of the road.

For emergencies call 911 or Wayne County Sheriff Office at (435)-836-1308

Moonscape Overlook

Bureau of Land Management Henry Mountain Field Station
380 W 100 S, Hanksville, UT 84734

