Recreational Achievements and Events in 2012

- During National Public Lands Day (NPLD) events at Lowry Bridge Recreation Site and the Uhlhorn Trailhead, the Lewistown Field Office worked with volunteers to complete numerous site improvements. Participants included the Montana Conservation Corps, Judith Basin Back Country Horsemen, BLM employees and local residents.

- More than 600 eastern Montana children participated in Take It Outside events at various recreation sites within the Miles City Field Office. Students learned about wildland fire, jobs in public land management, soil management, weed identification and our river system.
- More than 40 volunteers pulled weeds and planted native shrubs on National Public Lands Day at the Fort Meade Area of Critical Environmental Concern in South Dakota. Participants included the Back Country Horsemen, Meade County road crew, Boy Scouts, City of Sturgis maintenance crew, BLM employees, a homeowners association, and Women of War.
- Improvements at Pompeys Pillar National Monument include boardwalk repair, landscape work, and sign replacement. In addition, staff members addressed numerous safety concerns, re-stained several buildings and completed a sidewalk. The cleanup and installation of kiosks and picnic tables at public access/parking areas along U.S. Highway 312 will also contribute to a more pleasing and user-friendly experience. Many of these improvements were supported with fees collected at PPNM.

- The three HiLine field offices took part in a series of interagency open houses to educate the public about the abundant recreation opportunities on state and federal lands in northern Montana. Representatives from the BLM, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, and Bureau of Reclamation participated.
- The Glasgow Field Office hosted an open house at the Glasgow OHV Recreation Area to discuss planned projects for the site. A Montana Conservation Corps crew spent a week repairing and replacing boundary and primitive route markers in the Bitter Creek Wilderness Study Area. Picnic tables and fire rings were added to the three campsites at Troika Reservoir.
- The Malta Field Office replaced the boundary fence and installed a new fishing access walk-through gate at Cottonwood Recreation Area. In addition, it repainted the bathrooms at Cottonwood, Camp Creek and Montana Gulch and installed new regulatory signs at Camp Creek, Horse Corral, Buff's and Montana Gulch.
- The Havre Field Office repainted the bathrooms at the Moffat Bridge and Pugsley Bridge boat ramps on the Marias River. It also constructed a parking area at BR-12 Watchable Wildlife Area.
- The Upper Missouri National Wild and Scenic River was selected to represent Montana in the DOI's America's Great Outdoors (AGO) River Initiative. As such, the river will serve as a model for conserving and restoring key rivers, expanding outdoor recreational opportunities, promoting lasting partnerships with landowners, and supporting jobs in local communities. The initiative includes partnerships with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and other federal, state and local agencies, and non-governmental organizations.

- Projects in Garnet Ghost Town include the stabilization of Kelly's Saloon, handrail redesign in Well's Hotel, maintenance work on Warren Park trail, and the removal of more than 100 beetle-killed trees in a BLM/Forest Service partnership effort.
- The Dillon Field Office received high marks in a Government Performance and Results Act survey this summer for its recreation management along the Madison River. About 300 visitors answered questions about facility conditions, staff courtesy, resource protection and overall visitor and recreation management of developed recreation sites.
- The Butte Field Office continues its pilot project for off-highway riding areas sponsored by several off-highway advocate groups. This OHV partnership continues to improve recreation opportunities and experiences at the Pipestone OHV area, the most popular of its kind in Montana. During its first year as a not-for-profit organization, the Friends of Pipestone applied for a state grant to help with area management and general maintenance tasks.
- The Billings Field Office initiated a partnership with the Audubon Conservation Center to provide guided school programs at the Sundance Lodge and Four Dances recreation areas along the Yellowstone River. This is the Billings Field Office's first environmental education and youth partnership with a conservation organization. In addition, the field office received a grant to study the biodiversity of the Pryor Mountains and many volunteers assisted with this endeavor.
