I am assuming that we may have a couple requests during the open house for hard copies of the Plan (persons with limited internet access etc).

I would think we could have one "desk copy" and maybe five more back behind the table so that if pressed we have them to hand out.

Any thoughts?

Good Morning,

I would prefer that we do not hand out any hard copies for anyone to take with them.

I'm not opposed to a desk copy for viewing. I think this is appropriate.

Thanks

It's a public document and a person does not need to submit a FOIA to obtain a copy of it.

If someone were to request a copy of the Plan during the open house, the BLM would print and send it in the mail. Brian

Amanda: let's have two copies of the Plan printed, which we will mark as "desk copy"

Thanks!
