DAILY ELECTRONIC BRIEFING SUMMARY FOR SECRETARY ZINKE
Thursday, May 11, 2017

FROM: Christine Bauserman, (b) (6)

OVERVIEW:

Today you have one briefing on your meeting with Congresswoman Radewagen & the American Tunaboat Association.

Following the Briefing are your talking points.

United States Department of the Interior
DAILY ELECTRONIC BRIEFING SUMMARY FOR SECRETARY ZINKE
May 11, 2017

DATE: May 11, 2017

FROM: Doug Domenech, Senior Advisor
Krystina Borja, Guam Desk Officer/Policy Analyst, Office of Insular Affairs

SUBJECT: Meeting with American Tunaboat Association and American Samoa
Congressional Delegate Amata Radewagen

I. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

You have agreed to meet with U.S. Congresswoman Radewagen, representing American Samoa, and a group of fisherman to discuss the economic impact of the Pacific Remote Islands Marine National Monument. The meeting will include members of the American Tunaboat Association, including their President Brian Hallman.

The purpose of this memo is to provide you will background on the Monument.

II. BACKGROUND

In 2009, through Proclamation 8336, President George W. Bush established the Pacific Remote Islands Marine National Monument (PRIMNM).

The monument included the waters and submerged and emergent lands of the Pacific Remote Islands to the lines of latitude and longitude, approximately 50 nautical miles from the mean low water lines of Wake, Baker, Howland, and Jarvis Islands, Johnston Atoll, Kingman Reef, and Palmyra Atoll.

The Federal land and interests in land reserved consisted of approximately 86,888 square miles.

In 2014, President Barack Obama issued Proclamation 9173, expanding the PRIMNM from its original boundaries to the seaward limit (200 nautical miles) of the U.S. Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) of the waters and submerged lands surrounding Jarvis and Wake Islands and Johnston Atoll.

This proclamation expanded the PRIMNM to its current size, of approximately 490,000 square miles, over 5 times the original size.

III. DISCUSSION

In both proclamations, the Secretaries of Commerce and the Interior were tasked with cooperative management of the PRIMNM.

Proclamation 8336 states that; “[t]he Secretaries of Commerce and the Interior shall not allow or permit any appropriation, injury, destruction, or removal of any feature of this monument except as provided for by this proclamation and shall prohibit commercial fishing within boundaries of the monument.”

Further the proclamation states that the Secretary of the Interior can permit noncommercial fishing upon request, at specific locations in accordance with this proclamation. Noncommercial fishing opportunities currently allowed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Palmyra Atoll may continue unless the Secretary of the Interior determines such fishing would not be compatible with the purposes of Palmyra Atoll National Wildlife Refuge.

United States Department of the Interior
DAILY ELECTRONIC BRIEFING SUMMARY FOR SECRETARY ZINKE
 May 11, 2017

RESPONSE TO EXPANSION

In 2014, the PRIMNM was originally proposed to expand to the 20 nautical mile limit of all the Pacific Remote Island areas.

There was broad opposition to the proposal, including among both the public sector (including the Governors of the three U.S. territories in the Pacific and the Western Pacific Regional Fishery Management Council) and private sector (including the American Tuna Boat Association, the Tri-Marine Group and StarKist).

Opposition mostly centered around the negative impact upon U.S. Pacific Islands and U.S. fisheries, the lack of conservation benefits, already existing U.S. and international ocean policy and laws, and inadequate consultation of local stakeholders and regional fishery managers.

In 2014, Governor Moliga of American Samoa officially opposed the proposal to expand the Pacific Remote Islands Marine National Monument to the full extent of the US EEZ, expressing concern that it would “effectively curtail their continued economic survival along with the simultaneous preemption of their subsistence lifestyles.” Moliga argued that “the loss of fishing grounds due to the proposed expansion will translate to fisheries related economic loss caused by the decline in the supply of fish to the canneries which will no doubt trigger an economic recession for the Territory of American Samoa’s economy.”

The final expansion, however, was amended to remove the waters and submerged lands surrounding Howland and Baker Islands, Kingman Reef, and Palmyra Atoll. While concerns were expressed regarding an expansion of the PRIMNM in general, it was acknowledged that the amended expansion plan would reduce the economic toll the original plan would have taken on sustainable fisheries.

RECENT ACTION

In a February 10, 2017, letter, Congresswoman Amata Radewagen requested that the Secretary of the Interior take action to lift the fishing moratorium in the Pacific Remote Islands Marine

National Monument and the Rose Atoll Marine National Monument for vessels unloading their catch in American Samoa. Interior’s Office of Solicitor determined that per the language of the establishing proclamations, the Secretary does not possess the latitude to permit commercial fishing in either of these monuments.

In March, 2017, Governor Moliga, along with Governor Calvo of Guam and Governor Torres of the Northern Mariana Islands, sent a joint letter to President Trump, requesting he remedy restrictions on fishing in waters surrounding the Pacific Island territories, stating:

Our island communities depend on the ocean for food security and economic opportunities. Our Samoan, Chamorro, and Carolinian cultures are interwoven with the marine environment and fishing,” they wrote. “The monument fishing restrictions are unnecessary and impede our socioeconomic and cultural stability. The promises of previous administrations and environment organizations of monument co-management and revenue generation have not been realized.

The Fish and Wildlife Service, and NOAA Fisheries take the position that the Monument was appropriate to protect fish and seabird populations, and to reduce marine debris associated with commercial fishing.

IV. NEXT STEPS

It is likely that the group will ask you to modify the allowable uses for the Monument, and perhaps reduce the size.

TALKING POINTS FOR THE SECRETARY

DATE: Utah Trip

FROM: Laura Rigas, Communications Director, DOI

TOPLINE

- God gave me two ears and one mouth so I'm here to do a lot of listening and learning and hopefully talking just enough to ask the right questions.
- I'm here, directed by the President, to learn about the monuments, the historic and ecological significance, and make a determination.
- Nothing is predetermined. I come to this process with fresh eyes.
- Nobody loves public lands more than me. You can love them as much, but not more.

Talking Points

- This Administration and Congress have heard from states and local leaders that, in some cases, the designations of monuments may have resulted in lost jobs, reduced wages, and residents moving away. In the case of significant land planning, we feel that public input should be considered.
- That's why the President has asked for a review of large the monuments designated in the last 20 years, to see what changes and improvements can be made, and to give states and local communities a meaningful voice in this process.
- This policy is consistent with President Trump's promise to rural Americans to give them a voice and make sure their voices are heard.
- The President believes, like I do and many of my neighbors in Western States, that the Federal government can be a good neighbor, can protect areas of cultural and ecological importance, and that we can use federal lands for economic development – just as Teddy Roosevelt envisioned.
- The Antiquities Act of 1906 grants the President the authority to declare “historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest” on federal lands.
- Concerned about potential federal overreach, Antiquities Act authors specified the scope of the authority was to designate the “smallest area compatible with proper care and management of the objects to be protected.”

What the Executive Order does:

- This Executive Order restores trust between local communities and Washington and roots out abuses of power by previous administrations.
- This Executive Order puts America and the Department of the Interior back on track to manage

United States Department of the Interior
DAILY ELECTRONIC BRIEFING SUMMARY FOR SECRETARY ZINKE
May 11, 2017

our federal lands in accordance to traditional “multiple-use” philosophy by directing the Secretary of the Department of the Interior to make recommendations to the President on whether a monument should be rescinded, resized in order to better manage our federal lands.

And - This Executive Order gives rural communities across America a voice and restores land use planning by directing the Secretary of the Interior to consult and coordinate with the Governors of States affected by monument designations or other relevant officials of affected State, Tribal, and local governments.

What it does NOT do:

- This Executive Order does NOT strip any monument of a designation.
- Does not sell or transfer federal lands
- This Executive Order does NOT loosen any environmental or conservation regulations on any land or marine areas.
