I am on detail to the Deputy Secretary's office as the staff lead for the National Monument review process. We need at least one person from the National Park Service for the review team, and Downey Magellanes, who is the political lead for this, suggested I contact you.

The person or persons collectively should be generally familiar with NPS monuments, be able to reach into the agency to collect information on those monuments with possibly short turnaround, and later - and so perhaps a different person - be able to help review and analyze public comments. i would appreciate a names or names by COB Friday.

The tentative list of monuments to be reviewed is attached for your use; please do not circulate it yet.
