Ok, I just tried and I received the error message that folders cannot be shared outside of DOI. So it looks like we won't be able to share it with FS people. Another option would be for them to just email me any files they would like to share and I can upload them.

Sorry to take so long, but I have had a non-stop run of things that needed to be handled immediately.

Our folks are concerned that people not on DOI email will not be able to access the files, but will send invitations to whomever you designate in case there is access. I'm asking them to send one to you as a test; please let me know if you are able to get into the system

Otherwise, the solution we discussed of having your field staff sit down with BLM in the field and review/revise the submissions seems the most practical approach.
