Many of them must be comments for or against the overall process. as none of the individual monuments I looked at yesterday - not all of them - had over 6,000 comments, and 7 were below 1,000 comments. The number of form and near-form comments varied per monument, with the most extreme case being of 3,643 comments on one monument, 3,620 of those were identical, i.e. one form letter. This does not include the marine monuments, where the comments are much lower still - most is 182. I checked that for curiosity, nor for our leadership.
