

To: Cook, Christopher[cjcook@blm.gov]
From: Moore, Nikki
Sent: 2017-05-18T21:05:48-04:00
Importance: Normal
Subject: Re: Monument Listening sessions
Received: 2017-05-18T21:05:54-04:00

Hi Chris! So great to hear from you. Sounds like Barb is very busy! After hearing from the SD's I think we will be well covered and actually may have to pare down attendance at the Phoenix session. After learning more from BIA today who expect more people to actually show up in Portland and Connecticut, I'm going to put together a list of people willing to attend for BLM then we can look at coverage. I will ask BIA about calling in but I doubt that's a possibility. Will let you know!

Thanks for the Reno offer, I love it there!

Nikki Moore
Acting Deputy Assistant Director, National Conservation Lands and Community Partnerships
Bureau of Land Management, Washington D.C.
202.219.3180 (office)
202.740.0835 (cell)

On Thu, May 18, 2017 at 5:52 PM, Cook, Christopher <cjcook@blm.gov> wrote:

Hi Nikki!!

Long time no see and it looks like you're doing well!! Hope the chaos isn't too much these days.

As NV is setting up attendees for the upcoming, pretty short notice, listening session on the monument review and I wanted to know if that would be teleconference accessible?

The reason I am asking is our NLCS lead, Barb Keleher, is completely overbooked as she is the RVSAT chair as well as participating in the upcoming web workshops in Denver, plus has to go to the SLT meeting that week to present on recreation permitting and cost recovery.

I know at least the FM / monument manager for Gold Butte, and I believe also the manager for BARNM as well, are planning on attending in person but If I could have Barb call in to "listen" that would be perfect as she is totally overloaded and tribal consultation is technically a line officer function anyway.

Please let me know what y'all are thinking and I really appreciate it! Take care and look me up if you ever get out to Reno!!

--

Christopher J. Cook
Branch Chief, Non-Renewable Resources
State Office, Nevada BLM
Reno, Nevada 89502

(775) - 861 - 6555