At Downey's direction, I am pulling together a team to assist with the national monuments review, and we certainly need someone from Public Affairs on it. Could you get me a name or names?

And as first project for that person, here is a draft press release announcing a request for public comments on the review. It is based on the draft Federal Register notice, so could perhaps could use some polishing. We are still kicking around whether to use Regs.gov or our own web page to receive online comments, so that has an [insert] for now.
