

We will merge the new comments into an a new project that will have all the non-Bears Ears comments. But, this takes time. In the meantime, you can use the 117,000 item archive to search for the other monuments and report to the boss immediately.

Thanks. If we get another upload today, can I do the same, or is this only for those currently in the system?

In the interest of time, I merged all 30 archives together:

You can search for monument names and put the results in buckets to get a total as of the last upload.
