Hello, Rich,

From the BLM website:

Alaska - Under the Midnight Sun of summer and the northern lights of winter, BLM Alaska is a land full of promise -- 72 million acres of mountains, wetlands, and tundra for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations.

California - The BLM manages 15.2 million acres in California and 1.6 million acres in northwestern Nevada for multiple uses and sustained yield -- meeting today's needs while planning for the future.

Utah - The BLM manages nearly 22.9 million acres of public lands in Utah and 32 million subsurface acres, representing about 42 percent of the state.
