I need to know what the reason is for the cut out in this Indian Creek NCA area. Can't seem to figure it out! Thanks.

Downey,
I think the Abajo map is more to show the Wilderness area designations in more detail. The Overview Map and the San Juan County Designations Map show the overall Indian Creek NCA and the Bears Ears NCA in a more cohesive way.

The PLI would have withdrawn all minerals from entry and designated all WSAs in San Juan County as Wilderness Areas, except for two small ones on the Colorado Border that are connected with citizen proposed wilderness on the Colorado side.

SITLA told me they would like their state land in the southeast corner of the monument (near Bluff) to be mapped out if there is a boundary adjustment. They have some oil and gas there.
