Alberto,

Attached please find maps of both GSENM and Bears Ears NM with possible sites identified for filming. I have also attached our resource protection best practices and film site information. Lastly, I have attached a letter from the Canyon Country District Manager that outlines operating procedures in the vicinity of sensitive cultural resources. Hopefully this information will aid you in getting some amazing shots of Americas Public Lands. Call if I can help with anything more. Thanks--Mike

Dear Mr. Moya,

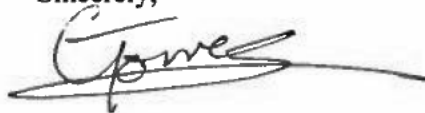

Thank you for contacting Bureau of Land Management (BLM) regarding filming B-roll and photography for your news coverage. Your cooperation is appreciated in order to ensure sensitive resources are protected and appropriate permissions are in place prior to filming. BLM has determined that your request complies with the definition of "news" per 36 CFR Part 5, WO IM No. 2004-073, and UT IM No. 2010-043 and therefore a permit is not required at this time.

Our office has several cultural sites that have been interpreted and stabilized for public visitation. These are appropriate for filming and photography for widespread news coverage. Many others have not undergone necessary review and consultation for public disclosure, and could be adversely impacted by unintended disclosure of location information. Enclosed is a list of sites and potential filming locations with resource protection measures and stipulations specific to the site. The attachment also contains links to maps, brief site descriptions, and location information that may be helpful if you are unfamiliar with the area.

A map is also provided that identifies these sites, as well as areas that are appropriate for filming with unmanned aircraft systems (UASs). The map also identifies Wilderness Study Areas, which BLM manages to promote a backcountry visitor experience. We respectfully request you do not use UASs in these locations. If you adhere to these resource protection measures and continue to work with the BLM Public Affairs Specialist, your activity is not expected to adversely impact public lands. Thank you for respecting the sensitive nature of cultural resources.

It is your responsibility to keep this letter and the enclosed documents with you while filming.

Sincerely,

District Manager

News Media Photography and Filming
Resource Protection Best Practices and Film Site Information

1. Please keep this letter and list of best practices with you at all times.
2. All vehicles will remain on designated roads, turnouts, and parking areas.
3. Tripods, monopods, other camera equipment must sit above the ground and may not be buried or dug into the soil surface.
4. Camping will occur within existing disturbed areas or campgrounds.
5. No collection of artifacts or other materials is permitted in or near archaeological sites.
6. Do not walk on or damage archaeological site features such as standing architecture, rock alignments, middens, or other features that would suffer from physical contact.
7. Leave the site in the same condition as you found it. Do not remove or alter the location of artifacts (feel free to look, but return them to the exact location where you found them)
8. Pets are not allowed in or immediately near any archaeological sites and are prohibited in many canyons of Cedar Mesa, as they can cause irreparable damage through digging or defecation/urination.
9. Do not disturb vegetation or cryptobiotic soil crusts.
10. News film crews do not have exclusive use of any area; areas must remain open to public use.
11. For extended filming away from toilet facilities (more than 2 hours), bring a portable toilet or other approved human waste disposal system (i.e. "wag bag").
12. Please avoid use of Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UASs or drones) in Wilderness Study Areas, which are managed to provide a remote backcountry visitor experience. A map will be provided that identifies areas best suited and appropriate for UASs. You must have all appropriate FAA certifications/licenses for UAS operation and adhere to regulations for their use. <https://www.faa.gov/uas/>
13. The table below contains specific stipulations for named cultural resource sites. Please adhere to these instructions.

None of these sites provide potable water, please be prepared for travel in a remote location, carry extra food and water, plenty of gas, and a spare tire. Gas and supplies are available in Monticello, Blanding, Shirttail Corners (Junction of State Highway 191 and State Route 95), Bluff, and Mexican Hat.

US State Route 95 Corridor
Butler Wash Ruin Overlook and Trail Easily accessed trailhead (with restroom facilities). One mile trail to a scenic overlook of a complex ruin. https://www.recreation.gov/recreationalAreaDetails.do?contractCode_NRSO&amp;parkId_16411&amp;recAreaId_16411&amp;agencyCode_70901 https://www.blm.gov/visit/butler-wash-ruins	Open to the public: do not climb on walls, avoid touching masonry, do not touch rock art, do not disturb the ground surface (do not dig or move rocks), do not remove or displace artifacts. No use of climbing equipment. Appropriate for drone use, please be considerate of other visitors and do not pilot the drone too close to the dwellings.
Butler Wash Dinosaur Tracksite Therapod (meat-eating dinosaur) track site with interpretive kiosk. Approximately 1/8 mile round trip trail from kiosk to the tracks which are found in a Summerville-Bluff Sandstone slab adjacent to the drainage. Approximately 1/4 mile south of State Route 95 on well graded unpaved road, suitable for passenger cars. Access road is slightly east of the Butler Wash Interpretive Site parking area.	Open to the public: do not step on the tracks or attempt to take casts. Pouring clean water to make them more visible for photography is acceptable. Appropriate site for drone use.
Comb Wash and Butler Wash Roads Butler Wash Road (CR 230) is east of the Comb and provides access to Butler Wash petroglyph site. On State Route 95, There is a pullout just west of the comb with scenic views to the north and south of Comb Wash. The Comb Wash Road (CR 235) follows the bottom of the valley south to the San Juan River, and provides access to River House Ruins and San Juan Hill. Each has several wash crossings that should be avoided during stormy periods. High clearance vehicles recommended.	Both of these roads are open and may have pullouts suitable for drone use and filming this natural geologic feature. Appropriate areas for drone use.
Mule Canyon Ruin Easily accessed public interpretive site. Has a more modern roof feature to protect the kiva and interpretive kiosks. Wheelchair accessible. Restroom facilities. https://www.recreation.gov/recreationalAreaDetails.do?contractCode_NRSO&amp;parkId_257004&amp;facilityId_257004&amp;agencyCode_70901	Open to the public: do not climb on walls, avoid touching masonry, do not touch rock art, do not disturb the ground surface (do not dig or move rocks), do not remove or displace artifacts. No use of climbing equipment. Please refrain from drone use in the canyon.

Arch Canyon Ruin Accessed via unpaved road, 4WD/high clearance vehicle strongly recommended, can also be hiked. https://www.recreation.gov/recreationalAreaDetails.do?contractCode_NRSO&amp;parkId_16409&amp;recAreaId_16409&amp;agencyCode_70901	Open to the public: do not climb on walls, avoid touching masonry, do not touch rock art, do not disturb the ground surface (do not dig or move rocks), do not remove or displace artifacts. No use of climbing equipment. Appropriate for drone use.
Cave Canyon Towers (also called Mule Canyon Towers) This is an extensive site with seven towers, which have been recently stabilized and views of additional cliff dwellings. Access is through a gate, down a short dirt road to a parking area with an informational kiosk. The trail to the site is about a 10 minute hike. This site is located on lands managed by Utah State Trust Lands Administration and is not part of the Bears Ears National Monument, although it lies within the outer boundary (as proclaimed Dec. 28, 2016) https://trustlands.utah.gov/sitla-cave-towers-stewardship-project/ http://www.hikingwalking.com/destinations/ut/ut_se/blanding/cave_canyon_towers	The majority of the site is owned by SITLA.
