Thanks. I added some suggestions in response to some of the comments and asked if one or both of you would be able to suggest some text in response to a couple. Process-wise, Gary Lawkowski in the front office is looking at this issue, so I'd like to get him this draft with edits (he already has the original I sent you) as soon as possible, preferably with any "addressed" comments stripped out so we mostly just have line edits. So can you let me know if you think any of them need more work? Probably the most "significant" task is crafting the alternative argument (see my comment on page 7), but I'm thinking we can send it up to Gary with a placeholder for that if we need to.

See what you think.
