Hi Downey:

Wanted to follow up.

It's my understanding that the Secretary spoke with Oregon's Senators in advance of the visit. The Senators requested that the Governor be given ample opportunity to provide her input and what's been relayed to me is that the Secretary responded that he would accommodate however he could.

As I relayed in my prior email below, the Governor is insistent in her desire to join the Secretary on some of his touring activities during the day Saturday. In that regard, she is making preparations for a flight down to Medford that gets in at 7:45am Saturday and plans to leave on the last flight that day for Portland. Please let me know if there are any windows of time on Saturday that might work best for her attendance.

Happy to discuss this more with you.

Best,
Drew

Hi Downey:

I understand you'll be staffing the Secretary on his visit out to Oregon. You may not remember me but I'm a friend of Liz's who worked with her in the Wyden office and you and I shared I believe the legislative language class at Georgetown Law nearly five years ago.

I just spoke with our scheduler as we're trying to set up a time for the Governor and Secretary to meet. There's an offer for a 30 min sit down on Sunday from your office, however my Governor is much more interested in joining the Saturday tour of the monument and she's made that desire clear to her staff. Can you see what would be possible from your end? Much like your boss, she enjoys the outdoors and would rather see the land and help welcome the Secretary to her state than get a staff memo of talking points for a 30 min Sunday meeting.

Thanks for any help or insight into your side of things.

Best,
Drew
