Scott:

This is is very useful information.

In the litigation report to the Department of Justice, is it alright if I list you as the FWS contact for enforcement and management information.

Thanks again for your quick response.

Hi Larry-

In response to the commercial fishing enforcement and steps taken thus far in development of the joint management plan:

Commercial fishing enforcement has been limited to education with no citations written. NOAA and FWS developed a list of Q and A's that were posted on NOAA's website to address commonly asked questions about the commercial fishery closure. An educational flyer was also produced to be used by enforcement officers and for outreach at Fishery Management Council meetings and events that draw commercial fisherman.

The Joint Management Plan is at it's beginning stages. NOAA and FWS leadership met March 23, 2017 with focused discussion on the joint management plan. Both agencies reviewed a draft Work Plan outlining the planning process, public scoping options, and draft vision and goals for the Marine Monument. Core planning team members for each agency have yet to be identified.

Please let us know if any additional supporting info.

Thanks for getting back to me so promptly. What would be most helpful would be a short summary addressing the issues mentioned in my previous e-mail, along with any significant communications. At this point, I am not looking for the complete record of documents that might be responsive to the litigation hold.

Please let me know if you have any questions. If you can get me something early next week that would be great.

Thanks.

Thanks Larry- I will confirm with our folks when I'm back in the office next week, but I don't believe we will have any responsive documents in the Region re: the creation of the monument or taken any measures to prohibit fishing.

However, we do have records of initial steps/discussions with NOAA re development of a joint management plan.

I've been given the responsibility of working with the Department of Justice on information involving the FWS in connection with the Massachusetts

Any assistance you could provide, or in directing me to the appropriate individuals to address these issues would be most helpful.

Thanks.
