Dear Doug Domenech,

Our National Monuments are under attack.

House Republicans just introduced a bill to gut the Antiquities Act. The bill would make it harder for Presidents to designate National Monuments like Bears Ears and Grand Staircase-Escalante. It would make it easier for Big Oil to drill in our wild places.

We need your help to stop it from passing!

This bill was introduced less than a week after Donald Trump signed an Executive Order attacking our National Monuments. It will force the review of monuments that've been protected since 1996.

That puts more than 50 national monuments -- more than one billion acres of our natural and cultural heritage -- at risk for drilling, mining and logging.

But Trump's attack on our monuments wasn't enough for House Republicans. They want to be sure that future Presidents can't protect our wild places from Big Oil.

Stop Trump and Congress from destroying our National Monuments: Give $5 to Friends of the Earth today!

Trump's vision of our environment is clear. He thinks our national monuments are for being exploited to help his Big Oil friends.

The good news is, the Senate can still block these attacks on our public lands. So at Friends of the Earth, we're turning up the heat on the Senate to act.

We're training people like you to show up at town hall meetings, political fundraisers and anywhere else we can find Members of Congress. We'll demand to know what they're doing to help protect our environment.

We have a real shot at stopping the destruction of our national monuments. But we need your help!
