Broad bookends.....

Sounds good. Will send out an invite.

The only fixed item on my schedule is Thursday at 3, so Tuesday is fine, and might be safer - the majority of my meetings with her have been 8:15 or 6.

Makes sense.

To be on the safe side, how is Tues morning?

Certainly. However, I'd prefer to set a time after I meet with Downey Monday in case that meeting gets cut short, as they often do, and we need to have a 2nd one. I am tentatively set to see her at 8 am, and will let you know after that whether we addressed everything, in which case we can have a call whenever its convenient, or if I need to stand by for whenever she has a break in her schedule.

Thanks Randy, appreciate the clarification.

Lets follow up on Monday afternoon if you have some time. I'm fairly open after 1.

I found out about the press release from your email, had no idea one was coming. The pattern on this trip has been to issue each morning a summary of the previous day's events, and one for yesterday was up on the DOI website when I checked it earlier today. I didn't read all the details, so if there was something there about this meeting I missed it.

I knew there would be a meeting, thought it was with lobstermen as I advised you. Beyond that I don't have any information on this part of his trip, but expect to get a readout Monday.

Thank you Randy. Much appreciated.

Also, it would be very helpful to get a readout from the Secretary's meeting/roundtable with fisherman. I did not realize this was to be an "event" until someone sent me the DOI press release, nor did we know the list of attendees. I know you didn't have all the info a week or so ago, but it would have helped to know a press release was coming, etc., to have better informed folks here.

Thanks again,

Michael

After some unexpected delays, here is a review status report and the Bears Ears economic report.

The status report was previously called an interim report, but I have changed the name so it is not confused with the report the Secretary provided to the President. This document was used extensively in the Departmental press release on the report the Secretary did provide to the President.

The Bears Ears economic report, prepared by the Departmental economic staff, reflects considerable input from BLM and the Forest Service. Going forward, the economic staff will prepare similar reports on most of the monuments under review. The Forest Service economists will prepare the reports for two monuments -- Giant Sequoia and San Gabriel Mountains -- that are entirely managed by the Forest Service, and I understand from Wednesday that Ben Simon is in discussion with your economists with respect to the Marine National Monuments.

Getting the names of Governors we sent letters has been delayed for trivial reasons. Our head of Intergovernmental Affairs, who I thought had sent out the letters, was the Secretary in New England for part of the trip, was to have been back yesterday, but was delayed and missed his flight. When I talked to him this morning, he said the letters were sent out by our Executive Secretariat office, and he just approved the content. I ran into the head of Exe Sec while on my way there, and was told that the person I needed to talk to about the list was out ill, as was over half the rest of their staff. Bottom line, should be able to get that Monday
