Subject: Fwd: Draft Press Release on Bears Ears Meeting -- Still Time for Quote

Hi all--

Short fuse on this. If anyone is still awake and wants to weigh in, please let me know.

I've been in conversation with Jackson from the Navajo DC office after the Secretary's meeting with the Tribal Coalition yesterday. I'd like to include a quote from the Secretary in this release (below), which they plan to send out (shortly) tonight.

Any issues?

DRAFT quote:

(b) (5)

Please let me know by 10pm eastern.

Many thanks,

Hi Laura and Heather,

Here is the draft our folks will put out this evening. I've cc'd Rick who is going to put this release out.

I know it's short notice, but if you have a quote from the Secretary you feel comfortable including, we'd be happy to put it in. Thanks!

Vice President Nez joins Bears Ears Inter-Tribal Coalition meeting with Secretary Zinke

SALT LAKE CITY-On May 7, tribal leaders from the Bears Ears Inter-Tribal Coalition convened at the Bureau of Land Management office in Salt Lake City, Utah for the first official meeting between coalition leaders and U.S. Department of Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke.

Vice President Jonathan Nez was in attendance to advocate for the Navajo Nation's position on the Bears Ears National Monument.

Other tribal leaders in attendance included Navajo Nation Council Delegate Davis Filfred (Aneth, Mexican Water, Red Mesa, Teec Nos Pos, To'likan), Navajo Nation Attorney General Ethel Branch, Ute Tribal Chairman Shaun Chapoose, Ute Mountain Ute Tribal Chairman Harold Cuthair, and Ute Tribal Legal Counsel Leland Begay. Carleton Bowekaty, Pueblo of Zuni Councilman and Co-Chair of the Bears Ears Inter-Tribal Coalition, joined by phone.

Secretary Zinke was joined by staff from the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management.

Vice President Nez said tribes are united in protecting the Bears Ears region -- especially tribal cultural resources and the right for tribes to gather ceremonial herbs and medicines on the land.

Ensuring that the Navajo people have access and are able to perform traditional Navajo ceremonies on the land is another primary concern, he added.

"We look forward to working with Secretary Zinke to find a path forward for this very important sacred area," Vice President Nez said. "I appreciate the tribal leaders being here as well. We all supported, and continue to support, the national monument designation."

Chairman Cuthair agreed with Vice President Nez and said tribes like the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe have ancestral ties to the Bears Ears, which must be protected.

"We'd like to preserve it, protect it, manage it. There's a lot (of cultural resources) out there. This land is sacred," Cuthair said.

Chairman Chapoose said the Bears Ears National Monument was the first instance for tribal nations to engage in the national monument designation process.

"Do we continue in this advisory role? Our knowledge is passed down generation to generation through the oral tradition," Chapoose said.

"Our people have used that land for millennia," said Branch. "We are protecting our cultures and beliefs. We need specific access for ceremonies."
