GSENM Advisory Committee Meeting Set For January 18

KANAB, Utah — The Bureau of Land Management's (BLM) Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument Advisory Committee(GSENM MAC) will host a meeting/conference call on Thursday, January 18, 2018, from 9 a.m.to noon Mountain Standard Time.

Is timing critical? ☒ Yes ☐ No

If yes, provide the date the document must publish or other action must occur: 1/3/2018

What is driving the timing? FACA requires a minimum 15-days notice before a meeting may be held.

What happens if the deadline is missed?

The meeting cannot be held before its charter expires.

Background: The committee's charter requires two-to-four meetings per year. The committee has yet to meet this fiscal year; and its charter is due to expire January 23. This meeting is necessary to discuss secretarial direction and priorities for future work on Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument; and how the committee might be involved in that work after its charter is renewed.

Issues: [Controversial? What are the significant issues, who will care, and how strongly will they care?]

While the meeting itself is not controversial, the recent presidential proclamation modifying the boundaries of Grand Staircase-Escalante is being strongly opposed by many non-governmental organizations. The opposition has ranged from conducting rallies to filing litigation.
