That works.

I'll give you a call then.

How about 2:30? my noon one is with an outside group, so can't be sure it will end on time. Should I call you?

Ok. My morning is fairly booked. Free at 1:30-2:00 or after 2:30.

OK - I have meetings 10-11 and 12:00 -1:30 as of now, will need to add at least one more once I get in the office, but you have priority over that, so just let know what works for you.

Great! Thanks Randy.

I'm still at the informal level as we have not yet received guidance from the Department so do not want to get ahead of that.

Lets talk tomorrow as you also mentioned some ideas so lets confirm as to which one you are referring. I can then follow up.

I also appear to have the lead for working out arrangements with NOAA, so let me know if/when its time to talk on that. Our leadership went along with my endorsement of your idea - without knowing it was you - so whatever you can get agreement for on your end will probably be OK.

Some of the acreage numbers in the chart are off, for reasons I don't yet know, but doubt we will send a new release.

Here is a just-issued DOI press release on the public comment process. The list of Monuments is part of the press release, but when I downloaded it I could not make the formatting work, so the list is the second attachment. Our folks included the marine monuments but believe the wording preserves all your options.
