It likely will be Friday before we can start analyzing public comments, and I'd appreciate a chance to go over my initial list of what to sort for - which I'm told is too complicated - against what you really need. My initial list is below.

DRAFT CODES FOR SORTING PUBLIC COMMENTS

Information we want to capture from substantive comments (not in priority order):

name of monument, or multiple/all, then if there is information on

public access

cultural, particularly Tribal, or historic sites not currently included in a monument

cultural, particularly Tribal, or historic sites not adequately protected by Proclamation or regulations recreational use – hunting, fishing, hiking inholdings

legal comments or analysis grazing

oil, gas or minerals whether monument exceeds "the smallest area compatible with the proper care and management of the objects to be protected"; whether protected resources in monument are appropriately classified as "historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, [or] other objects of historic or scientific interest"; the effects of a designation on the available uses of adjoining Federal lands beyond the monument boundaries;

the effects of a designation on the use and enjoyment of non-Federal lands within or beyond monument boundaries;

if comment is from State, Tribal or local government public input on establishment of the Monument proposed other Monuments for review significant “other” – reviewer to note subject(s) and report them at end of shift
