Subject: Next round of coding delayed

Whether through the large number of comments submitted on our docket for its last day (105,000, more or less) or other reasons, regs.gov developed a glitch Monday and was double-entering some of our comments, luckily with the same comment number so staff there could track it.

As a result, we waiting until the regs.gov staff have resolved this problem before downloading the last round of comments. They hoped to be finished today, but it appears they are not yet done.

I'll provide an update when we hear from th regs.gov staff.
