Everyone should have received an email Friday from "Administrator" at DiscoverText. Whether you can participate in tomorrow's training or not, please register as described in that email as soon as possible. Those participating in the training should do so before the session starts at 10 tomorrow.

You should also receive, or may have already received, an invitation from Dr. Stu Shulman at DiscoverText for the training, which will be by "GoToMeeting" software. Those who are able to participate tomorrow please run this a few minutes in advance to ensure it works on your computer; you need take it only to the decision on audio link (phone or computer) and an on-screen message about the session starting when Dr. Shulman arrives. I have a standard DOI laptop and had no problems registering or using the Go to meeting" link.
