Subject: current round of monnument review comments coded
Date: Monday, June 26, 2017 1:10:12 PM

All of the current round of comments have been coded - Thanks to everyone who participated.

It will be sometime tomorrow or perhaps even Wednesday morning before there are more comments to code. The next batch of comments is being transferred from regs.gov to DiscoverText this afternoon, and it will then take some time for the DiscoverText computer to sort out the exact and near-duplicate form letters, so you won't have to individually review those.

I will send another message when the individual comments are ready for coding.
